OGDEN'S NEW PLAYHOUSE

Workmen Rushing Completion of Theatre for Formal Opening Tonight.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)
Ogden, Dec. 12.—With the opening of the new Cort theatre here tomorrow night a new theatrical era will begin in Ogden. Standard attractions, the best that the northwestern theatrical circuit affords, will appear on its stage with original companies playing. Lifting Ogden into the first class of western theatrical cities.

The new playhouse, although built by John Cort and under the management of the syndicate of which he is head, is distinctly an Ogden venture. Ogden men having put in most of the capital for its erection.

The cast contains some fifty persons, headed by Frederick Bowers. A feature of the house will be the exceptional orchestra, with Professor Squire Coop at its head. Mr. Coop has prepared an excellent musical program for Monday night.

FIGHT STARTS RUNAWAY BINGHAM BANK OPENING

Team Dashes Through Crowds Causing Many Narrow Escapes From Injury.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)
Ogden, Dec. 12.—Two drunken men, gazing in a light in lower Twenty-fifth street this afternoon frightened into running away a spirited team of young horses attached to a light cutter, and thereby started a chapter of accidents extending from the union station to Washington avenue. The team dashed madly up the street, colliding with a single cutter at Lincoln avenue, throwing out but not injuring John Hortense, driving the single rig. With undiminished speed the runaway continued another block, causing a panic among pedestrians by their close approach to the sidewalk. Near Washington avenue one horse slipped and fell on the icy pavement, dragging his mate to the ground with him and upsetting the cutter onto the sidewalk into a crowd of bystanders. The cutter was completely demolished, and both horses were badly cut and scratched.

The police arrested the perpetrators of the episode and booked them on charges of disturbing the peace. Gus Pappas, one of the men, started the runaway by pushing his companion directly under the horse's heels. The man was not badly hurt was remarkable.

Although Prof. Gore was unable to examine the data sent to Copenhagen, he interviewed and cross-examined Captain Bradley, Cook's backer, and also Captain Looze and George H. Dunkle, who declared in affidavits that they drew up astronomical data used by Dr. Cook in describing his dash northward.

ANNUAL RESCUE PARTIES TIRED OF LONG TRIPS

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)
Logan, Dec. 12.—Sheriff Crookston started up Logan canyon today to bring down Rudolph Neiderhauser, an eccentric German who is on a ranch about 30 miles up the canyon. Neiderhauser usually takes his family, consisting of a wife and seven small children, up there in the winter, and when the heavy winter snows come, has to be rescued. Last winter the sheriff and a party of men had a fearful job to get them down on hand sleds. This has been done several times and now the authorities have grown tired and a complaint has been sworn to charging Neiderhauser with failure to provide his family with proper food, clothing and shelter, and when brought down he will be held in custody of the law, as the community is incensed over the man's actions.

NAGEL ISSUES REPORT

Commerce and Labor Secretary Suggests Broadening Scope of Department.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The report of Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor, made public today, recommends the development of the bureau of corporations into an agency to perform for the whole country what it has been doing in specific instances. Secretary Nagel's recommendations suggest an agency to which the management and condition of all interstate corporations must be reported. The need of properly safeguarding business secrets is recognized and would be provided for. The secretary declares the comparison that the commercial and financial life of the nation has become nationalized and suggests that it is now in order to nationalize its corporate life.

Another important recommendation made by the secretary is for broader laws to stamp out the white slave traffic. While the present statutes prohibit the importation of women for immoral purposes, there is no law against transporting them from one state to another. The secretary says it must be realized that the white slave trade is an organized business and that tighter laws are needed to enable federal authorities to fight it successfully.

COPPER, LEAD, ZINC

Geological Survey Issues Bulletin Covering a Group of States.

SOME SHOW A HEAVY LOSS IN TWO OTHERS AN INCREASE IN OUTPUT IS SHOWN.

The geological survey has just issued a report on the production of silver, copper, lead and zinc in the central states in 1908, prepared by B. S. Butler and C. E. Siebenthal from statistics received from the mines.

The states covered by the report are Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Oklahoma and Wisconsin. The mines in this group of states report a decrease in the production of these metals from that of 1907 amounting in value to $21,570,754, or more than 25 per cent, the figures for the two years being $77,697,457 and $56,126,703, respectively.

Big Loss in Copper.
The most notable decrease was in the production of copper, which showed a loss of $14,079,602, or more than 32 per cent, the figures for 1907 and 1908 being $42,553,406 and $28,473,804. Michigan was the principal copper mining state in this group in 1908, the other states mining chiefly lead and zinc. Most of the silver produced is derived from ones that carry mainly copper or lead.

Loss in Lead Production.
The loss in lead production in these states amounted to $2,650,350, or 15 per cent, principally in Missouri, the chief lead mining and zinc mining state in the country. Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky and Wisconsin, however, also showed greatly diminished lead production. The lead product of the central states in 1907 and 1908 amounted to $15,516,174 and $12,862,324.

Decreased Output of Zinc.
The loss in zinc production in this section—$4,595,450, or 25 per cent—was divided among three states, Kansas, Missouri and Wisconsin. The figures for 1907 and 1908 are $18,411,088 and $13,815,639.

Gains Made by Some States.
Notwithstanding the general loss in the production of these metals in the central section, some states show gains in their output of one or more of them. Missouri gained in silver, Oklahoma in lead and Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa and Oklahoma in zinc.

The report forms an advance chapter from "Mineral Resources of the United States, Calendar Year 1908" and may be had free by applying to the director of the geological survey at Washington. It contains charts showing graphically the average weekly prices of spelter and of standard zinc concentrates in 1907 and 1908 and the weekly production of zinc concentrates in the Joplin region during those years.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW COMES IN JANUARY

Attractive Poster Issued Which Is Said to Be Causing Considerable Comment.

In seeking to get an attractive poster for the tenth national automobile show, to be held in Madison Square Garden, January 3-15, the show managers have hit upon one that is provoking considerable comment. Instead of the usual winged Mercury, mighty Samson, or some other symbolical figure, the poster for the garden show reveals a typical American girl, attired in complete motoring costume with skirts blown as she stands with one dainty foot advanced and arm outstretched. The picture is in keeping with the plans of the committee to make the exhibition and everything connected with it truly national in character, and it really makes an attractive poster. It was made by an artist from a life study. The original is not a professional model, but is said to be a woman well known in motoring circles whose picture has appeared in the automobile news columns more than once during the past two years.

Because she objected to having a full face sketch of her and would permit only a profile to be made, so the story goes, the artist and M. L. Downs, secretary of the show committee, were much perplexed to find a pose that would fittingly substitute the one they had planned. The young woman, who is something of an artist herself, solved the situation by striking a graceful and artistic posture that was immediately approved.

The poster depicts the girl in a long red coat, flowing veil and adorned with the latest in motoring headgear. Her head is slightly uplifted and from the corner of one eye she looks coquettishly over her shoulder at the spectator. Her left arm is resting against an invisible background, while her right arm is extended upwards and her forefinger points to the words: "Tenth National Automobile Show." Some have dubbed this poster "the handwriting on the wall," having reference to the fact that the show of the licensed makers is now fortified by a court decision in favor of the Selden patent, but she is becoming better known as "Miss Posey," not because of her attitude, but because she is the real garden variety of show girl.

FRENCHMEN TAKE PROFIT

Syndicate Formed to Boost Steel Common Dissolves and Divides Winnings.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The syndicate of French banks formed last spring with the expectation of listing a million shares of steel common stock on the Paris bourse was dissolved a few days ago, after liquidating its holdings. The syndicate's profits, according to gossip, were large, probably exceeding those of any financial transaction in which the interested banks have been engaged in recent years.

It is explained that the syndicate's decision to discontinue its holdings was due to complications which arose in connection with the proposed listing, especially the delay in the work of the commission appointed by M. Caillaux, then minister of finance, to investigate the application of existing laws to the introduction of foreign securities.

Herman Harges of Morgan, Harges & Co. today confirmed the dissolution of the syndicate.

"The proposition to list steel," he said, "emanated from influential French financial circles which saw in the introduction of American securities a prospect for renewing the former activity of the Paris bourse, and at the same time opportunities for advantageous investment for the French public. As the entering wedge, they selected steel common. Steel was then quoted at 44. It is now selling at 51. In the meantime the dividend doubled."

"In this interval transactions in steel exchange were much larger than those in any other stock, so that the object intended apparently would have been more than fulfilled, and it seems regrettable that the French public did not have a chance to participate in the profits of the transactions."

M. Caillaux's commission has not completed its report.

WHEN TICKET AGENTS JOKE.

J. L. Smith, who has served as division passenger agent for the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad for the past year, with offices at 75 Broad street, was for a time ticket agent in Binghamton, N. Y. The Erie and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western stations stand within fifty feet of each other in that city, and the competition is very keen between the two roads. The Erie ticket agent, John Webster, was paying Smith a social call one day when an excited individual rushed into the Lackawanna station and shouted:

"Say, I want to get to Buffalo the soonest way."

"All right," said Smith, calmly, "take the Erie; I don't know of any worse way."

"Guess the cigs are on me," said Webster, as he put on his hat and left the station to the nearest cafe—Newark Star.

Whether the "place" is advertised or the servant advertises the want ad, does its part.
